

COACH TJ ATLEY

Head Coach

LPGA Teaching Division
Life Member

2014 Nominated LPGA
Teacher of the Year

2016 Nominated LPGA
Coach of the Year

Coach TJ grew up in Vancouver with a family of recreational golfers. As a multi-sport athlete, she played at the Provincial, National and International levels.

A few highlights include playing on 4 BC Teams, placing 3rd in the Inaugural America's Cup (1978) and a 6th place finish in the World team Championship with playing partner Dawn Coe-Jones (1983).

Coach TJ attended the University of Washington on a full scholarship. She won multiple times and had many runner-up finishes. She captained the team as a sophomore, junior and senior. TJ graduated in 1984 with a degree in Public Speaking.

Coach TJ is a life member of the LPGA Teaching division and holds 3 copyrights for the Standardized Golf Test. These copyrights are the first of their kind in the world and use quantitative testing to create bench marks for players.

She has built a solid rapport with many University Coaches in the USA and Canada. In 2017 she had 6 golfers playing in the Ivy League. She prides herself with having hundreds of university offers and over 26 players and counting whom have turned professional.

Coach TJ is an author of Ruby and Pals, a golfing series about a panda and her friends. The books will be released in late 2020. She incorporated the company with 3 students and Coach Christa.

Coach TJ has been a professional clubmaker since 1990. She has taught and made thousands of sets.

In 2017 she took the Ivy League, Northwestern and Duke coaches to China for her ID Camp.

EMAIL: coachtj@zonegolfacademy.ca

CELL: 778.999.3026

We Chat: coachtj123

